Pads 2018: Silent Auction Opportunity

Women To Be invites artists to submit original works of art and jewelry to our silent auction fundraiser, Pads 2018: Wine for Womanhood. Artists will be compensated with a portion of the sale of their work. Please visit women2be.org/events for more event information.

About Women To Be

“Did you know that many girls and women in developing countries have little or no access to sanitary supplies during their monthly periods? Some use leaves, newspapers or corn husks — many stay home from school or work. Girls who miss school are more likely to drop out, making them vulnerable to early marriage and exploitation. Providing sanitary products is a surprisingly simple but key component for social change. Girls can break out of a cycle of poverty when they stay in school.”

Women To Be (Women2Be.org) is a 501c3 non-profit that fabricates reusable (washable) menstrual supplies and distributes them to women in remote places of the world. Our mission is to provide reusable pads to women free of charge to assure that they 1) stay in school longer and learn a trade, 2) marry later, and create stronger marriages, and 3) gain the confidence and experience necessary to become strong advocates for themselves and their dependents.

Deadline: April 22, 2018
